Display of Agricultural and Horticultural Products at State Fair Attract Attention.

THE SALT LAKE ROUTE PLAYS IMPORTANT PART

Number of Products from Iron County Take First Prizes—County Agent Explains.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 6, 1916. Mr. Chas. S. Wilkin, editor Iron County Record, Cedar City, Utah. Dear Sir:—I am attaching hereto clipping from the Deseret News of October 4th, containing cut and write-up of our exhibit of agricultural products from Washington, Iron, Beaver and Millard counties.

Iron county this year sent up a good variety of her farm products, some of which carried away prizes, and the interest displayed by visitors will surely repay us all.

To County Agricultural Agent, Mr. Esplin, who gathered the exhibits, as well as assisted in their installation, is due a whole lot of credit and our thanks.

Yours truly,
J. H. MANDERFIELD.

The article referred to as published by the News follows:

The Salt Lake Route has this year duplicated its successful exhibits of several years past in the horticultural building at the state fair grounds and in many respects the exhibit is more beautiful and impressive than ever before.

There are exhibits, in separate divisions of the big corner booth occupied by the Salt Lake Route, from Washington, Millard, Beaver and Iron counties and from the Newcastle project and the Malone Co-operative Experimental Farm. In each is shown prize-winning specimens of grain, fruits, nuts and vegetables.

Almonds a Feature.

Separate showcases are devoted to exhibits of grain and other products, notably from the Nephri experimental farm, which has produced a wide variety of fruit grains and the farm of Thomas Judd & Sons at La Verkin, Utah, from which are entered pomegranates, nuts and a selection of tropical and semi-tropical fruits and products of other sorts. In all, the "Dixie" section of Utah has contributed largely to the display, a showing of paper-shell almonds being noteworthy. Other showcases are given to the displays of individual growers, one case containing an especially fine exhibit of apples from the orchard of W. H. Homer of Pleasant Grove.

The display of products from the Malone experimental farm is very interesting. This farm comprises a tract of 20 acres 17 miles north of Milford, Beaver county, Utah, in the Escalante valley, and those interested in the farm are the Utah Conservation commission, the Utah Agricultural college, the Salt Lake Route, U. S. department of Agriculture, Fairbanks-Morse & Company and the Utah Oil Refining company.

Irrigation by Wells.

The display contains many specimens of grain and vegetables raised on the tract through irrigation of the surface acreage by underground water, which is found at from 15 to 60 feet below the surface, according to the wells so far sunk. The exact flow of water must be yet determined to a certainty, though the experiments have proved the feasibility of this plan of irrigation, and a flow of 350 gallons a minute has been obtained, sufficient to irrigate 96 acres.

As the display in the booths of the Salt Lake Route comes from widely separated localities along the line of the road, it may be considered as a comprehensive exhibit of products and progress in the farming communities in the western and southwestern portions of the state.

SIMON BAMBERGER SPEAKS

Friday night, Oct. 6th, Simon Bamberger, Democratic nominee of gubernatorial honors, and R'd W. Young, a Democratic spell-binder, addressed the people of Cedar City, giving reasons why in their opinions the voters of this place should support the Democratic nominees in the coming election.

Mr. Bamberger made a strong point of the extravagance of the republican administration in the state, and laid emphasis upon the statement that the governor's office has a $5,000 rug, while a home-made rag carpet could be made to answer the purpose just as well.

Republicans who were present said that they did not mind "Uncle Simon" so much, but that his companion was nothing but a "wind-jammer."

Democrats present assert that it was an excellent rally.

STEAM LAUNDRY TO OPEN SOON

Quarters Nearly Ready and Machinery Being Received and Stored for Installation.

The new quarters for the Cedar City Steam Laundry are nearing completion, and the machinery is being received and housed there. Mr. Parry has secured the services of Robert O'Neal, a machinist and laundrer of experience, who will have charge of the installation and operation of the plant, and Mr. Parry states that he expects to have it in operation within about three weeks.

When in Salt Lake City recently Mr. Parry increased his original order for machinery to the extent of a thousand dollars, which will bring the equipment right up to the minute and give the plant the very latest devices in use in the large city laundries.

While Mr. Parry states that he will be perfectly satisfied if the plant pays interest on the investment for the first year or two, trusting to the future, after the people of the county get fully educated up to the business, for his ultimate profits, yet the outlook is that it will be a profitable investment from the beginning.

Many of the housewives of Cedar City and nearby towns are impatiently waiting for the laundry to open for business.

GEORGE H. CROSBY, SR., DIES AT SAINT GEORGE

Tidings were received last Wednesday by friends in this city of the death at St. George of George H. Crosby, Sr., who made his home there something less than a year ago, moving there from Wyoming.

Deceased was a well known figure in southern Utah, in the Mormon colonies of Arizona, and also in Wyoming. He has served as bishop in a number of places, including Hebron, in the early settlement of that place, before the present town of Enterprise was thought of, in Leeds, during the palmy days of Silver Reef, and in one or more towns in Arizona. He was a man universally liked, and had a happy faculty of making friends, which gave him a very extended acquaintanceship.

George was the eldest of a family of four brothers—the others being Jesse, for a number of years president of the Panguitch stake, Samuel, who also resided in Panguitch, and Joshua, of St. George. All his brothers preceded him to the other side. Mrs. Elida Snow, a sister residing in St. George, survives him.

He is also survived by a number of sons and daughters, most of whom reside in Arizona, and some of whom are prominent in business and politics there. The funeral has been postponed to Sunday afternoon in order to give the members of the family an opportunity to attend the services, which will also be attended by a number of people from this place.

Deceased was 70 years of age, and his health had been on the decline for the past two years, though it was not regarded as serious until within the past few months.

George Crosby was an honorable and upright citizen, and did his full share for the uplifting of humanity while on earth. He will be greatly missed by all who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

MRS. W. W. DALLEY SUC- CUMBS TO OPERATION.

Word has just been received here of the death at Salt Lake City of Mrs. W. W. Dalley of Summit, who was operated on for cancer, and died yesterday. The remains are being sent home for burial, and the funeral services will be held in Summit tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Dalley and her husband are among the old settlers of that place and are highly respected. Her many friends will be grieved to learn of her demise, and no doubt a number of people from Cedar City will be in attendance at the funeral.

Robert Gordon Gets Final Summons.

Last Sunday night, at his home in Huntington, Emery county, Robert Gordon, father of Mrs. Maeser Dalley of this place and of Mrs. A. E. Leonard, who resided here for a time, answered the final summons and passed to the great beyond. Mrs. Dalley left Monday via Lund to attend the funeral. Deceased was 67 years old, and death is supposed to be due to general debility.

Despondency.

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere.

OPEN SEASON FOR DEER BEGINS SUNDAY, OCT. 15

Next Sunday, October the 15th, the season opens for the killing of deer. During the 15 days between the 15th and the 30th, each resident of the state has the privilege of killing one male deer, providing he purchases a license so to do, and providing further, of course, he can find the deer and has marksmanship sufficient to enable him to shoot it.

A number of local sports are preparing to try their luck, and will set out tomorrow in various directions in order to be in the haunts of the timid animals when the season opens.

The weather seems to be rather propitious for the purpose. Stormy weather, and particularly a fresh fall of snow, is the sort of weather the huntsman welcomes, as it makes the tracking of the game easy.

No, boys, don't bother about us if you are successful, as the editor does not care for venison, "nohow."

PRICE OF PAPER IS CAUSING APPREHENSION

J. L. Peterson, salesman for Carpenter Paper company, was here calling upon the trade recently, says the Duchesne Record. He gives the information that on nearly all classes of paper the price has been advanced about one hundred per cent over what it was a year ago. Not only has the price doubled, but on such items as news print the supply is very limited and unless something is done to relieve it, there is apprehension throughout the country that many country dailies and weeklies, which depend on the open market for their supplies, will be forced out of business for the twofold reason that the price is becoming almost prohibitive and also that print has nearly disappeared.

The above from the Duchesne paper is very true of the present paper market and the situation is adding much to the already serious problems that confront the papers, both large and small, throughout the country. As a result of the advance in the price of paper and other supplies, thousands and thousands of newspapers throughout the United States have increased the subscription price of their publications and a great many have also advanced their advertising rates.

As yet The Record has not decided upon an increase in its subscription price, and our advertising rates remain the same; but such a move may be necessary at any time in the future, and our advice to subscribers is to keep their accounts paid a year in advance. This will not only protect you against a possible increase during that period, but will help materially to prevent the necessity of such an increase on our part.

COAL FAMINE PROBABLE.

As a result of the heavy rains and floods which have washed out the canyon road quite badly, making it impossible to get to the mines in the canyon until considerable work has been done, it seems probable that we will experience at least a temporary coal famine, for there is very little coal in town at present, and the sudden change in the weather has made a strong demand for fuel.

Of course, there are the mines on the side of the mountain that may be drawn on in the interim, but it is doubtful if either of them is in an immediately workable condition.

This is a time when we feel the need of the tram to the Green property on the face of the mountain near town; then there would be an abundance of coal for local consumption and to supply the section of country tributary to Cedar City at all times, regardless of the freaks of Coal Creek, and by the way there is every indication that the tram proposition will be put through. A goodly number of local people, some of whom, at least, are amply able, have promised their support in the organization of a company, and apparently as soon as the preliminaries can be attended to a corporation to take the proposition over will be launched.

We are informed that a meeting of those who have expressed their willingness to become stockholders is to be held in a few days, for the purpose of incorporating the company, which will include prominent and influential men from several southern counties.

W. W. Pace of Thatcher, Arizona, a brother of our fellow-townsmen, J. G. Pace, is visiting in this city, at his old home at Harmony and at St. George, for a few days. He was much impressed with the progress Cedar City is making, but remarked that there never was a question but that Cedar City was the best town in the southern part of the state. Mr. Pace says that they have a good country in Arizona, and that the people of his section are quite prosperous, though farming is the principal pursuit. He says, however, that they are just beginning to learn that there is nothing in raising hay to sell; that in order to get the full value of their product it is necessary to feed it to livestock on the farm. Mr. Pace is a constant reader of The Record, and says it is like a long letter from home each week.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. H. Armstrong Have Happy Surprise on 50th Anniversary of Wedding Day.

Monday, Oct. 9th, was the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Armstrong, of this city and Enoch, and the event was duly commemorated by a large gathering of relatives and intimate friends at the last named town. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the surprise by their unexpected presence of Mr. Armstrong's brother, John G. Armstrong, his wife and youngest daughter from Salt Lake City, and of his son Joseph S. Armstrong, from Idaho, with his wife, daughter and three of his grand children. In all covers were laid at the noon-day luncheon for 163 persons, seven children, thirty-nine grand-children and three great grand-children of the couple being included in the company.

Following the luncheon there was a very interesting program of vocal and instrumental musical numbers, short speeches, etc., given in the Enoch meeting house.

In the evening an old time ball, set to old time music furnished by an orchestra led by Prof. John L. Jones, proved an enjoyable and interesting feature of the occasion.

The Record joins with their friends, who are legion, in wishing the worthy couple many more anniversaries of their marriage day.

REPUBLICANS HOLD RALLY

Last night at the Ward Hall the people of Cedar City had the privilege of hearing the man whom the Republicans are asserting will be the next governor of the state of Utah—Nephi L. Morris. Mr. Morris was accompanied, or rather preceded, by David A. Smith, who kept the audience interested until the appearance of Mr. Morris at nearly 10 o'clock, when he arrived from Parowan, after delivering an evening address at that place. The party included Mr. Charles Kent, a connoisseur of colors and the fair sex, who insists that Cedar is most noted for the quality of the rouge it produces. Mr. Kent rendered some catchy songs on features of the campaign.

Mr. Smith devoted considerable of his time to the Mexican situation and the Wilson method of keeping the nation out of war.

Mr. Morris devoted the principal portion of his remarks to the prohibition question, and delivered a masterly address on the subject of temperance. He said that it was a mistake for people to suppose that the liquor question was settled by the adoption of a prohibition plank in their platform by the two principal political parties of the state; that it required constant, persistent effort to cope with the saloon element, which did not object to working 30 hours out of the 24, if possible, in order to attain their purpose. Those hearing Mr. Morris were impressed with the sincerity of the candidate on this question. He is a fluent speaker, and handled his subject in an able and intelligent manner.

MORE AND MORE AUTOS.

Whoop La! Once more prosperity has made itself manifest on that Avenue of Aristocratic Printers, commonly known as Post Office Place.

Frank Pearson, of the Lakeside Press, has taken unto himself a handsome seven-passenger Studebaker. He has become so proficient in the driving that he can knock the corners off the blocks without marring the paint. When asked the reason for buying so large a car for his small family he said that he wanted a car that he was not ashamed to take his wife or any other man's wife out in. In fact, he emphatically remarked that he would not have any "Tin Lizzies" like the printers on Richard's Alley owned.

We are afraid if this show of prosperity gets to spreading that an indignant public will rise in its wrath and demand a Federal investigation like the Plumbers are getting. A printer is only supposed to make enough money to pay his street car fare either coming from or going to his work, or walk, b'gosh.—The Salt Lake Leader (Organ of the Franklin Club.)

Parents-Teachers Meeting.

A parents-teachers meeting will be held in the tabernacle Sunday evening, Oct. 15, 1916, as the public part of the Iron County Teachers' Institute. The speakers will be Prof. J. H. Paul, Prof. Jos. McKnight and Mrs. Sarah Hollister. W. W. McALLISTER, Principal.

Local Happenings

Neil D. Forsyth of Newcastle was noticed in town last evening.

The wood hauling season is on again and considerable wood is being brought into town each day.

The opening dance of the Mutual Improvement Associations of the Cedar wards will be held in the Ward Hall tonight.

Read the advertisements in The Record. We believe that the announcements contained in our columns are all honest and trustworthy. Pay especial attention to our classified column. It will prove profitable and helpful to you.

The Golden Rule Store, the Cedar City Co-op., the Cedar Mercantile & Live Stock company, the Cedar Sheep Association and the Cedar City Drug Company each have a new announcement in this issue of The Record.

Mr. Charles Crosby, of Thatcher, Arizona, one of the sons of George H. Crosby, passed through today en route to St. George to attend his father's funeral which will be held Sunday afternoon.

Frank Hester and C. F. Longley of Los Angeles, California, were in town last Monday en route to Parowan on business connected with the making of final proof on their homestead entries in this county.

The weather has been rather unsettled the past few days, with frequent light showers of rain. Just enough to keep the atmosphere damp and chilly. A few days of bright sunshine would be welcome for a change.

Attention of Record Readers is directed to the business card of DeArman and Glover, well drillers of Beryl, Utah. These gentlemen have a first class rig and are prepared to do drilling in any part of the county and contiguous districts.

The open season for wild ducks was ushered in October first, but we have not heard of many of our local nimmers availing themselves of the opportunity of supplying their larder; possibly because there are very few ducks in this part of the country to shoot.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Anderson, will spend this winter at Brawley, California, where Mr. Anderson is feeding a bunch of sheep for the market. Mr. Anderson went down several days ago, and was joined by Mrs. Anderson this week.

Uncle Sylvester Jones of Enoch, after considering the purchase of a car for some months, has finally made the purchase of a Dodge, and is occasionally seen in Cedar City, driving around proud as a peacock. We are always glad to see our elderly friends getting some pleasure out of their existence among us, while they are still able to enjoy it.

The following students of this locality are attending the Utah Agricultural College at Logan this winter: Carrie Leigh and Wilson Lugt, of Cedar City; Willard Canfield of Enterprise; Rudolph Church and Marion Beckstrom of Panguitch; Wm. Shumway and Bessie Spencer, from Kanab; and James W. Thornton, from Newcastle.

FOR SALE.—Seventy acres of splendid brush land for arid farming. All under good fence, and in the flowing well belt. One small well now flowing on the property; 12 miles southwest from Cedar City, adjoining the Esplin farm. Best locality for dry farming in Iron county. Price $29 per acre. Enquire at The Record Office.—Adv.-tf.

James E. Dreyfus, state agent for the F. & E. Check Writer, used for protecting checks against being increased in amount, spent a day or two in Cedar City this week and took a number of orders for his device, which appears to be about the most simple, practical and complete device yet patented for this purpose. His advertisement will be found in this issue of The Record.

Mr. G. C. Goddard met with a painful and somewhat serious accident last week while chopping wood in the hills. A tree he was cutting down divided and fell in two directions, one half catching and knocking him to the ground. One of his feet and one leg were badly bruised and injured. He is able to get about with the aid of crutches to supervise his work, but will not be able to use the foot much for some days.

The local people who drove automobiles through to Salt Lake City for Conference and the State Fair were caught out in a bad spell of weather and found difficulty in getting thru. They were delayed on their return by waiting for the roads to improve, and did not reach here until Tuesday night. Those making the trip by auto were S. J. Foster and daughter, W. R. Palmer, and F. B. Wood; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fuller, and Randall L. Jones and family.

"GINGLES JINGLES"

GAME LOSER.

Just be a game loser. Don't howl when you're stung. Let no one get wise to the fact you got hung. They don't care a rap, all they'll do is to talk, and say serves him right, he was always a gawk. The lid for your trouble and put it down hard. Let nothing get by your most vigilant guard. You can if you will face the music and say, There's no one more happy than I am today. We all have our troubles, but mine I forget. I don't harbor worries, I've no rooms to let. There's someone at home all the time every day. I'm wise to my cue and I know how to play. I'm shy on the dollars. I've no coach and four, but jittneys are plentiful right at the door. I care not for either the way that I feel. I'm healthy and strong on the pedalmobile. Let those take it easy who want to get sick. I'd rather work hard and be there with the kick. I'll not make a murmur or loose my grip, no matter how far down the ladder I slip. I'll take a new hold, never minding the drop, and make a bee line again straight for the top. Erin K. Singler

CORRESPONDENCE

PAROWAN

S. A. Halterman and Brose Paramore returned from Salt Lake City a few days ago bringing one of the famous Super-six Hudson cars and two Dodge cars. Sylvester Jones of Enoch purchased one of the Dodge cars, and Mr. Halterman has a buyer lined up for the Hudson.

Thomas Lemmon is over from Panguitch for a short visit with his parents. Mr. Lemmon is employed in a garage at Panguitch.

Wednesday evening a missionary dance was given in the Opera House for the benefit of Ray Lyman and Nelson Marsden, who are departing for the mission field this week. A number of school friends from Cedar City were in attendance, and the entire evening was a success both socially and financially.

Dr. Macfarlane of Cedar City and George W. Decker of Parowan were the speakers at a meeting of the Wilson Club held at the Hotel De Bruhn last Monday evening. Dr. Macfarlane explained the rural credit law in a very able manner. Mr. Decker's talk on the Mexican question was very much appreciated and enjoyed. The members of the Wilson club are looking forward to next Tuesday evening, when Rev. Rice, a student of President Wilson at Princeton College, will speak on the subject of "Woodrow Wilson, the Man." The glee club will be present and furnish music for the evening. A good time is anticipated.

Mrs. E. Fotheringham of Panguitch and Mrs. Neta Bigler of Idaho, and Mrs. Merlin Kelsey of Minersville, and George Holyoak, Jr., of Idaho, are Parowan visitors this week.

Miss Annie Rasmussen is a conference visitor at the metropolis.

Miss Marie Farrow of Summit was in Parowan last Saturday making final proof on land. She was accompanied by John Farrow and Marion Simkins who were her witnesses.

The stork visited the home of Carl Roberts and Wm. Green lately leaving a girl at the Roberts home and a boy with Mr. and Mrs. Green. Mr. Green says that he is another Hughes man.
